‘Donated school equipment brings cricket and rugby to Malawi

‘Brockhurst School - we love you! Thank you so much for all the sports kit including cricket bats and rugby balls. The boys and girls in Malawi looked pretty confused when we pulled these out of the bag but soon got stuck in. See the photos here.’

Thanks to Mrs Sliwinski who has organised our link with Lingadzi – a school with imaginative pupils to judge by the flier. One pupil catches the eye and puts us all to shame: William is a remarkable guy. Aged 14 he managed to make a windmill out of scrap items he found and it produced enough energy to irrigate his family's fields. He learnt how to do it using a book borrowed from his local library. Buy his inspiring book here and see him deliver a lecture for TED here.
